FAITH FOCUS COMMITMENT

There are times during every journey when our faith in our own resolve is tested. The road climbs uphill, the terrain becomes difficult, we fall and we rise.

At that point, we need to focus, and reiterate our commitment to re-start our journey to reach the destination with new experience, wisdom and a burning desire to conquer once again.

Our company is passing through challenging times. It was marred by over leveraging of debt, rising interest cost, non-conducive external environment and long gestation and non-performance of some of the businesses, all of which were blockades in realisation of the true potential of the core asset i.e. textiles. But at the same time, this challenging period has provided us with harsh truths and lessons which will keep us on the right path going forward.

In our journey so far of around three decades, there are quite a few positives though; Alok Industries has become one of the largest textile companies in the country, with world-class manufacturing capabilities, an extensive export network, and a portfolio of clients consisting of top brands.

We have faith in our ability to pull through this crisis. We have focussed on regaining our premier position in the Indian textile industry. We have the commitment to work tirelessly to reach our goals and regain the confidence of all the stakeholders.

Chairman's Message

The company optimism over its restoration to health sooner or later is based largely on its ability to appreciably grow its exports. With costs increasing China, there is adequate opportunities in the export markets and Alok with its existing customer relations is well positioned to leverage this. It is noteworthy that even in a very difficult year like 2015-16, the Company has managed an average monthly export of over Rs. 100 crore.

Dear Shareholders,

2015-16 has been a challenging year for most of the Indian companies right across manufacturing / infrastructure based industries, and Alok Industries was no exception. The way their business dynamics has evolved over the last few years has necessitated a recalibration of growth plans and revision of business strategies.

From a macro-economic perspective, the world has not recovered fast enough from the financial crisis of 2008. Since then, an investment led aggressive growth in China and consumption led rapid growth in emerging economies like India had signalled a new world economic order and early signs of fast recovery. Unfortunately, these trends did not last long. In 2015-16, there have been significant slowdown in China, which was driving global growth and several other emerging economies, especially those that were dependent on commodities faced severe headwinds. Consequently, world economic growth has stagnated between 3 and 3.5%, and there are big pockets of uncertainty, which has affected business world-wide. In this backdrop, while Indian manufacturing companies have grown appreciably in the last few years, the pressures on their balance sheets have also accentuated. This is especially the case for companies in sectors where investments were critical for global competitiveness and largely funded through debt. The whole of last year was characterised by banks facing challenges of managing leveraged accounts and finding viable solutions.

These underlying industry-wide developments in India affected Alok Industries as well. Through a planned growth path supported by organic and inorganic investments, in the last few years, the Company has created world class capacities, built global scale of operations and established strong supply relationships with a wide spectrum of global customers. However, this capacity creation has been accompanied by a large build-up of debt and today there is a mismatch in timings of cash inflows and outflows, creating severe financial stress for the Company.

Let me take a step back and see how we got to this stage. First, there was the general global economic slowdown post the financial crisis of 2008 and global markets witnessed a slowdown. Second, our investments in the retail business both in India and UK did not work. While we closed operations in India, the UK business is still burning cash. Third, the diversification into real estate although intrinsically value creating has not been able to encash on any asset appreciation and has essentially locked up large capital. Fourth, our aggressive expansion into Polyester came on stream at a time when global polyester prices dropped dramatically driven primarily by sharp fall in oil prices. Fifth, during the expansion phase, interest rates have gone up from around 7.50% to a little over 13%, which put further pressures on servicing debt and even contributed to incremental debt. Sixth, this period also witnessed huge fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, and much of the benefits of lower costs of foreign exchange nominated external commercial borrowings were eroded due to devaluation of the Indian Rupee. Lastly, the bunching of repayments at the parent level (Alok Industries) and at the subsidiary level guaranteed by the parent also contributed to the liquidity crunch. Clearly, these were massive headwinds and affected the scale of our operations. Under this financial stress, 2015-16 was a year with very little working capital support that further aggravated a difficult situation and the Company operated at very low utilisation levels resulting in operational losses.

The lenders are undertaking various efforts to try and resolve the Company's present situation. Between November 2015 and January 2016, a joint forum of bankers led by State Bank of India, has decided to convert the loans extended to the parent company Alok Industries into a 65% stake by invoking the Strategic Debt Restructuring (SDR) option. SDR, introduced by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in June 2015, allows banks to convert a part of a defaulting borrower's debt into majority equity and assume operational control and manage the Company on a lower debt platform. This process has been under abeyance for some time now due to certain developments that are sub-judice. At present, there are also efforts to work out a long term viable deep restructuring for the Company.

While the lenders will, presumably focus on resolving the leveraging issues one way or the other, the overall Company efforts are directed at consolidation. This includes accelerating our efforts on selling non-core assets including real estate and overseas businesses. The monetization of the company's immovable assets and the proceeds from the sale of international business would help reduce debt.

The Company has had a very good reputation of servicing its global clients. In the last couple of years, given a realisation that there were working capital constraints, the Company out of its own volition had subdued its business with customers. We are confident, though that given our strong relationships with these Companies, quality of products and past delivery track record, we can bounce back in the market once the restructuring is done.

The Company has a strong home textile, apparel fabric and polyester business to drive exports. It may be noted that the company's home textile business is established enough in the US market as to account for more than 35% of its overall exports. Meanwhile, the other Divisions of Alok are expected to yield better results in the coming years as the demand for Indian textile is on an upswing. The company is currently exporting its products to more than 90 countries and plans to take advantage of the current downtrend in yarn exports from China. The company optimism over its restoration to health sooner or later is based largely on its ability to appreciably grow its exports. With costs increasing in the export markets and Alok with its existing customer relations is well positioned to leverage this. It is noteworthy that even in a very difficult year like 2015-16, the Company has managed an average monthly export of over Rs.100 crore.

Yes, the Company is facing challenging times. Our lenders have shown faith in our business and are exploring paths of debt realignment and revival of the company's operations. In the Company, we are focused on creating excellence right across our textile business. There are several small level initiatives under way that is aimed solely at our core textiles business and our 'eye is continuously on ball' to revive and accelerate this business. Together with all our stakeholders including our lenders, we are committed to restoring the past glory of Alok Industries.

I take this opportunity to thank our Board members, whose guidance has always helped us to choose the right path in our journey. I would also like to thank our financiers and our shareholders who put faith in our dreams and generously continue to provide us the capital to fund it. My thanks go out to our employees, our customers, our vendors and our well-wishers, for your continued support.

I urge you all to continue to repose faith in our business model, and partner with us as we work hard to turn the corner and embark on a new journey of growth.

Yours Sincerely,

S.K. Bhoan

25. Management's Opinion on the Emphasis of matters / notes given by the Auditors:

a. The Emphasis of Matters highlighted by the Statutory Auditors in their Report on the Standalone Financial Statements are self-explanatory and call for no comments from the management. In their Report on the Consolidated Financial Statements, the Statutory Auditors have stated that the basis for their qualified opinion is that the consolidated financial statements include the unaudited financial statements of nine subsidiaries and one jointly controlled entity. The management is of the opinion that this situation was unavoidable and in any event the audited financial statements of these entities are not going to be in any manner different from the unaudited versions.

b. Non Repayment of interest /principal amount to Debenture Holders for more than 1 year:

The Company is yet to pay the debenture interest payment due for a period beyond one year as at the Balance sheet date. This attracts the provisions of Section 164 (2) of the Companies Act, 2013 as per which all directors retiring by rotation at the ensuing Annual General Meeting and eligible for reappointment render themselves ineligible for such reappointment. Further, Section 167 of the said Act appears ambiguous regarding the vacation of the Board, if and when such a contravention continues. The Company is informed that the Company Law Committee appointed by the Government of India has already recommended appropriate amendments to Section 167 to remove the apparent ambiguity. The Company is further informed that the recommendation has been incorporated in the Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2016 which has been introduced in the Lok Sabha for discussion and is pending for confirmation.

Your Company is constantly searching for a competent Woman Director and Independent Directors in order to strengthen the Board in line with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and Listing Obligation and Disclosure Requirements, Rules 2015. It has been challenging to attract people on the Board in view of the fact that the performance of the Company during the period was sub-optimal. The Management is however confident of appointing a Woman Director and Independent Directors in the coming year.

26. Erosion of Net Worth

With accumulated losses of Rs. 3,722.80 crores at the end of the financial year, resulting in erosion of over 50% of peak net worth during the immediately preceding four financial years, we regret to inform that your Company has become a "Potential Sick Company" within the meaning of Section 23 of the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act, 1985 (SICA).

The Board at its meeting held on 30th May 2016 has reviewed the causes for such erosion and the prime reason amongst others which adversely affected the performance of the Company was the difficult economic conditions resulting in delays in realization of debtors, pile-up of inventory, rising interest costs and bunching of repayments leading to a tight liquidity position. This was compounded by lack of additional working capital facilities which resulted in lower capacity utilization and lower cash flow generation.

The Board after considering the various steps implemented and/or to be undertaken for improvement of performance of the Company is confident/optimistic that the Company would be able to implement effective measures in normal course of business to revive the operations of the Company. Accordingly, the financial statements for the Financial Year 2015-16 has been prepared on a going concern basis.

In terms of the requirement of SICA, the Company shall also make a reference to the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (BIFR) the fact of erosion within the stipulated time period.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Management Discussion and Analysis

Alok Industries ('Alok' or 'the Company') is one of India's leading textiles company with a presence across the value chain of both cotton and polyester products. The Company services a wide customer base spread across the world including major global marquee brands and also has certain international operations. The year under review was a very challenging year due to a variety of reasons including slump in the polyester sector across the globe, liquidity crunch and a highly leveraged financial position. This led to the company facing considerable stress and consequently being considered for a 'Strategic Debt Restructuring' by its consortium of working capital lenders.

Economic Overview

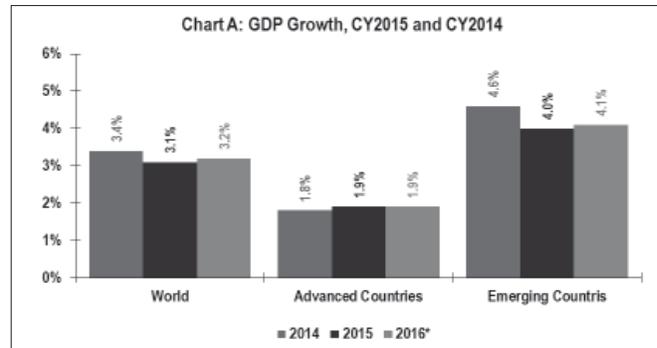

World

Although the global financial crisis is now seven years behind us, the world's economy is still struggling to regain momentum. Growth continues to falter in advanced economies and, while there is considerable divergence of performance across emerging market and developing economies, their overall growth remains below potential. Emerging market and developing economies face challenges, including the fall-out of sluggish advanced economy growth, tighter financial conditions, and stubbornly low commodity prices, though the latter impacts economies differently, depending on their nature of trade. Exporters of oil and other key commodities have been particularly hard hit, while their importers have been more resistant to economic headwinds.

In advanced economies, investment continues to be soft amid weaker growth prospects and elevated policy uncertainty, while export growth has slowed reflecting subdued external demand. Despite an expected boost from lower energy prices, and the ongoing improvement in labor markets, growth is projected to level off in Calendar Year (CY) 2016 rather than accelerate.

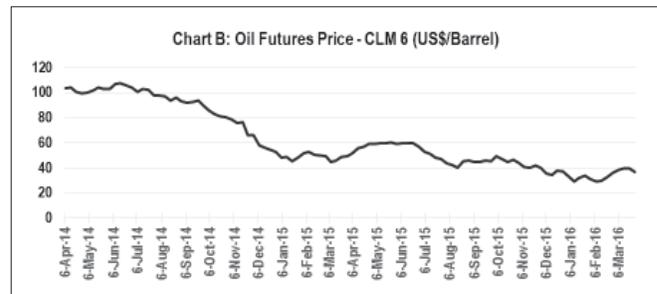

Emerging and Developing markets started CY2016 with weaker manufacturing activity. Investment growth has also slowed substantially, especially in commodity exporters, partly reflecting tightened domestic policies and weak capital inflows. In China, a gradual domestic rebalancing is under way, with robust growth in services and policy support measures mitigating the slowdown in industrial activity. Brazil and the Russian Federation are still mired in recession. Global merchandise trade remains subdued, reflecting rebalancing in China and weaker demand from commodity exporters, which together contributed to an outright contraction in overall Emerging and developing market merchandise imports in 2015.

Data from the International Monetary Fund (IMF), reported in the World Economic Outlook (WEO), April 2016, suggests that world economic output reduced from 3.4% in CY2014 to 3.1% in CY2015. While advanced economies remained steady at their lower levels of growth – 1.9% in CY2015 compared to 1.8% in CY2014, emerging markets and developing economies saw growth reduce from 4.6% in CY2014 to 4% in CY2015. Chart A gives the details.

Source: IMF estimates, Note: *2016 is a forecast

Amidst this uncertainty, a positive for consumers was the continuing reduction in commodity prices, driven primarily by crude oil. As Chart B shows, oil prices, which were at levels of over US$100/barrel at the beginning of FY2015, had reduced to levels of US$50/barrel by the beginning of FY2016. The secular downward trend continued through FY2016 and touched around US$30/barrel in December 2015. With this reduction, there was some respite in terms of cost of operations. Importantly, logistics costs diminished.

Major advanced economies are at different stages of their post-crisis recovery but are expected to stabilize around a weak growth trajectory. In the US, softer-than-expected activity since the start of CY2016 has led to downward revisions to growth projections. Sectors that rely on oil-related activities or exports have faced increasing headwinds. Low oil prices, and associated financial stress, has led to a collapse of capital expenditure in the energy sector. As for external trade, a strong U.S. dollar and weakening demand from emerging markets contributed to stalling exports. In contrast, above-trend gains in real disposable income, on the back of robust job creation and falling energy prices, continue to support private consumption as the main engine of growth. Labor market slack is diminishing, but a cyclical recovery in labor participation and a still elevated number of discouraged and involuntary part-time workers suggest a persistent and sizable pool of underutilized labor.

FAITH FOCUS COMMITMENT

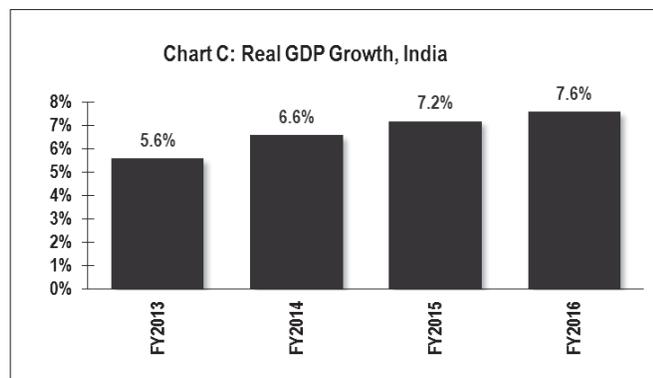

29th Annual Report | 1st April, 2015 to 31st March, 2016

The recovery in the Euro Area is progressing at a moderate pace, supported by an exceptional level of monetary policy accommodation, low oil prices, and slightly expansionary fiscal policies. However, weak external demand, renewed domestic uncertainties and broader geopolitical risks continue to weigh on confidence and activity. Private consumption has been resilient, and persistently low oil prices and improved labor market conditions should help consolidate gains in CY2016.

In China, gradual domestic rebalancing is under way. A sharp slowdown in industrial activity has thus far been mitigated by steady growth in the services sector. In CY2015, the services sector accounted for half of GDP and the majority of new urban jobs. This helped to offset layoffs in shrinking industrial sectors and kept urban labor markets tight. In addition, consumption growth continued to be robust, contributing largely to GDP growth in CY2015, almost double of what was contributed by investments.

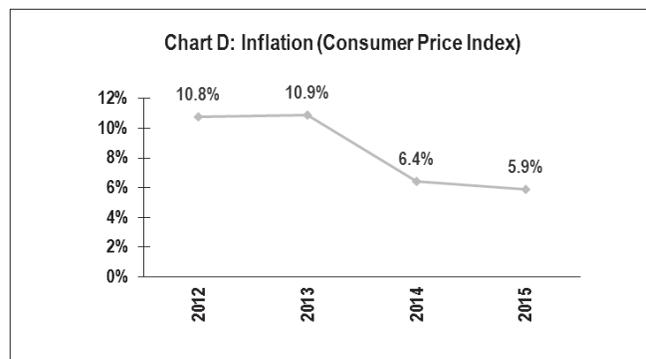

India

Despite global economic slowdown, growth trends in the Indian economy have been encouraging. As Chart C shows, real GDP growth has been improving steadily from a low of 5.6% in FY2013 to 7.6% in FY2016. Today, India is the fastest growing large economy in the world.

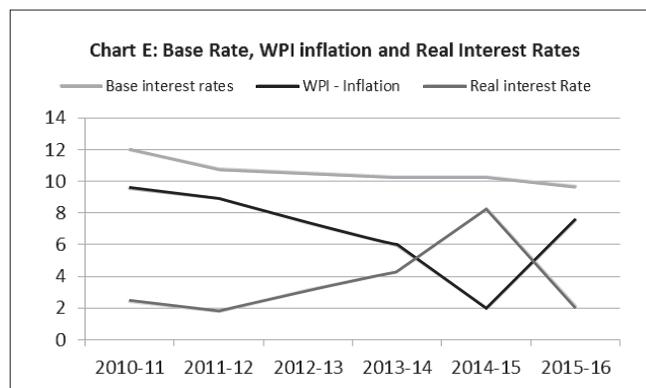

Source: Central Statistical Organisation (CSO), Government of India

Additionally, its other macroeconomic parameters like inflation, fiscal deficit and current account balance have exhibited distinct signs of improvement. Wholesale price inflation has been in negative territory for more than a year and the all-important consumer prices inflation has declined to nearly half of what it was a few years ago. As Chart D shows, compared to 10.9% CPI inflation in 2013, the level was down to 5.9% in 2015. With inflation under control, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has eased monetary policy and reduced the benchmark repo rate in three instalments by a total of 100 basis points. Consequently, lending rates have reduced marginally. The base rate for scheduled commercial banks, which was 10.25% in financial year (FY) 2014 has reduced to 9.7% by the end of FY2016. Having said so, interest rates need to come down further to really bolster investments.

Source: MOSPI, Government of India

On the one hand, the lower inflation and softening of and softening of interest rates auger well for consumption led growth of the real economy in India, on the other hand, the variance in the pace at which inflation and interest rates have reduced poses a problem for investment led manufacturing growth. Chart E shows that real interest rate, which is the difference between the base rate of banks (median value of rates of scheduled commercial banks) and inflation measured by the wholesale price index, has actually increased steadily between FY2011 and FY2015. This was at a time when economic demand was faltering. Such a development has had a lasting effect on return on investments in manufacturing and has contributed to the deteriorating quality of assets of the banking sector.

Source: Economic Adviser, Government of India

While there is much to cheer, there are also certain concerns. Weak growth in advanced and emerging economies has taken its toll on India's exports. In fact, exports reduced by 6.3% over 2015-16. Thankfully, imports have also declined, principally on account of reduced prices of crude oil for which the country is heavily dependent on imports and, hence, the trade and current account deficits continue to be moderate. Growth in agriculture has slackened due to two successive years of less than-normal monsoon rains. Saving and investment rates are showing hardly any signs of revival. The Rupee has depreciated vis-à-vis the US dollar, like most other currencies in the world, although less so in magnitude. At the same time, it has appreciated against a number of other major currencies. More importantly, the economy has not yet realised close to its potential as several reform measures are yet to take off and make any material impact. Several key initiatives like the ones for start-ups and the 'Make in India' campaign are yet to be meaningfully implemented. The all-important reform of Goods and Services Tax (GST) remains a legislative challenge. Hopefully, the GST Bill will be passed in the course of 2016-17, as it must for India to reap the benefits it deserves.

Textiles, Clothing and Fibre Industry

Global Scenario

The textiles and apparel industry is highly matured and has strong correlations with global macro-economic developments. The industry relies on transnational specialization and involves a healthy level of global trade. The macro-economic trend of shifting manufacturing operations in the mid to lower value stream of the industry to relative low cost emerging economies is quite widespread for textiles and apparels. Also, new avenues of growth in demand are primarily in emerging markets, while the sheer size of the large advanced economies like USA and Europe still remain the largest markets for the global industry.

The global textile and apparel industry will continue to grow along with growing consumption of textile and apparel products in developing countries and a gradual economic recovery of major developed markets. The growth of conventional textile products is driven by apparel segment which constitutes majority share of total demand. As the market continues to evolve, new consumption centers for apparel and home textiles are emerging. While the apparel market is still largely dominated by EU and USA, countries like China, India and Russia are emerging as future destinations for apparel consumption. The high growth in the market will be primarily driven by the increase in population as well as the per capita apparel spending of the already large population in these countries. It is estimated that the global apparel market will be around US$ 2.6 Trillion by 2025 growing at a CAGR of 4% per annum. This high growth in apparel consumption in developing economies will further drive the growth of textile manufacturing and trade in these countries. Table 1 gives present and projected consumption of Apparels in different regions and leading countries.

Per capita apparel consumption in developing countries like India and China is expected to increase by more than 2 times in next 10 years and make these the drivers of incremental growth, while the advanced markets will still remain important because of their sheer size. Table 2 and Chart F give the change in per capita consumption for some of the world's leading textiles and apparel markets.

Along with the growing consumption, global textile and apparel trade is estimated at US$820 bn and has grown at 5.6% CAGR since 2005 and is expected to grow further at 6.3% CAGR and reach US$1600 bn by 2025 as shown in Chart G. Presently, apparel constitutes more than half of the share of the global textile and apparel trade followed by fabric and yarn. Growth in global trade will bring about investments in the countries having strong supply base for apparel and textile products. India will be one of the gainers from investment point of view.

Global Trade in Textiles and Apparel in 2015

Import demand for textiles and apparel at the global level continues to be driven by the advance economies of USA and EU. Together, they continued to account for 52% of global imports. Japan, also has a high share of 7% and imports grew at a fast pace of 9% during 2005-2013.

EU imports: Data from European Textile and Apparel Confederation (EURATEX) suggests that overall import of clothing and textiles into Europe across all product types increased 9.6% to Euro 104.9 bn (US$ 116 bn), with textile import up 8.4% to Euro 28.6 bn (US$ 31.6 bn) and clothing growing by 10% to Euro 80.8 bn (US$ 89.3 bn). Import from top two suppliers – China and Bangladesh – recorded double digit growth. China saw its shipments rise 6% to Euro 29.97 bn (US$ 32.6 bn), with 30 bn articles of clothing sold to the EU. Bangladesh registered a 24% increase in shipments to Euro 13.72 bn (US$15.17 bn). Imports from the third largest supplier – Turkey – increased by 2% to Euro 9.44 bn (US$10.4 bn), while India was the fourth largest supplier registering sales of Euro 5.14 bn (US$5.7 bn), which was a growth of 11% over 2014.

US Imports: Total apparel and clothing imports into USA grew by 4.16% to US$111.9 billion. China, the largest exporter to the US with a share of 38.6% of total US imports, witnessed a growth of 3.35% to US$43.2 bn. The second largest exporter, Vietnam, recorded a growth of 13.4% to US$11.3 bn, followed by India, whose exports to USA increased by 8.24% to US$7.3 bn and Bangladesh with exports worth US$5.7 million, growing by 11.9%.

2015 was as such a tough year for many of Asia's exporters. But, while exporters of commodities and electronics suffered, the apparels and textiles sector held up remarkably well. Those exporters in the region that depended heavily on garments by and large outperformed their rivals. In many cases, these countries occupy the lower end of the apparel value chain, but the stability of the sector's performance has highlighted its important role as a driver of labor-intensive development for Asia's emerging markets.

The relative trends in competitiveness between Asia's main garment and textile exporters are broadly correlated with data from the US government's Office of Textiles and Apparel. These show that Asian suppliers accounted for roughly three-quarters of the total US imports of such products. China's share of the US market remains dominant, although the share has marginally slipped compared to 2014. The share of apparel and garment imports coming from members of the Association of South-East Asian Nations (ASEAN), by contrast, edged up largely owing to higher imports from Vietnam: other ASEAN nations such as Indonesia, Thailand and the Philippines lost market share. Collectively, the share of South Asian economies in US garment and textile import has grown closer to the levels reached by ASEAN countries. Interestingly, the performance of Indian and Sri Lankan exporters in the US has been significantly better than that of their domestic apparel export sectors overall.

The big shifts in exchange rates—both within Asia and in other emerging markets—that was seen in the last half of 2015 – will probably have a significant impact on the apparel trade in the next few years. Margins in the sector tend to be narrow, and so currency movements can have a significant effect on national competitiveness.

Nevertheless, many of the underlying trends evident in 2015 look set to continue. China's rising domestic costs are unlikely to be fully offset by the depreciation of the Renminbi that we expect to see in 2016, but the speed of the low-end garment export sector's departure to other markets will depend partly on the level of support that the Chinese government supplies to local producers. Garment sectors in India and Sri Lanka will continue to struggle with lackluster EU demand in the next few years, but their rising sales in the US will provide some offsetting support. Meanwhile, the rise of apparel producers in Bangladesh and Vietnam has been evident for several years, and there is no sign that their share of the global market will peak in the near future.

Less positively, mid-tier producers in countries like Cambodia, Indonesia, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan will have to do more to match their rivals in this increasingly tough market. Prospects for the garment sector in all five countries look fragile, particularly as new and even cheaper countries like Myanmar emerge as potential sites for production. Apparel exports may be holding up better than those of commodities and electronics, but competition in the sector remains cut-throat.

Thus, the global textile market is expected to grow and the key take aways are:

- The global apparel consumption will increase from USD 1.7 trillion in 2015 to USD 2.6 trillion by 2025
- Developing / Emerging economies will drive the apparel market growth
- Per Capita expenditure on apparel in developed countries in a decade from now will still be far more than that in developing nations
- China and India will be the fastest growing apparel markets, both growing in double digits
- China will become the biggest apparel market adding more than USD 378 bn in market size by 2025. India will be the second most attractive apparel market adding USD 121 bn by 2025

Indian Textile and Apparel Market Overview

Textile plays a major role in the Indian economy because of its following contributions:

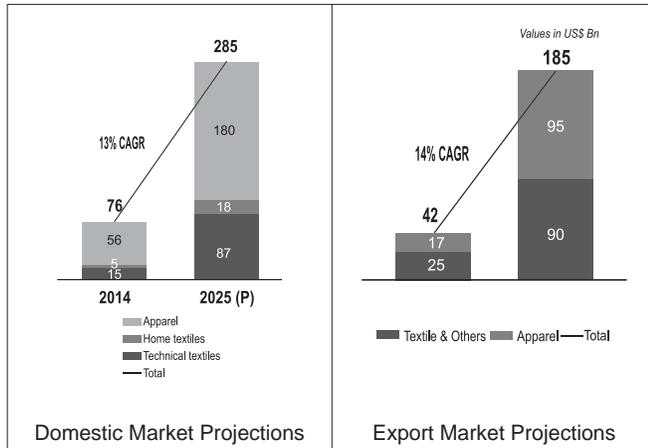

- Largest producer of Cotton in the world
- Largest producer of Jute in the world
- 2nd Largest producer of Silk in the world
- 2nd Largest producer of Man-made staple fiber
- 10th Largest producer of Wool with production

The Indian Textile and Apparel Industry have following inherent Strengths:

- Raw material availability
- Presence in complete value chain
- Big domestic market
- Large pool of skilled workers at comparative less wage rates
- Capability to process small lots with good design development
- Alignment with Government flagship schemes and initiatives like 'Make in India' & 'Skill India'

The size of India's textile market in 2014 was US$76 bn, which is expected to touch US$285 bn market by 2025 at a CAGR of 13% as shown in Chart-H.

The textile and apparel industry can be broadly divided into two segments - yarn and fibre, and processed fabrics and apparel. India accounts for around 14% of the world's production of textile fibres and yarns (largest producer of jute, second largest producer of silk and cotton, and third largest in cellulosic fibre). India has the highest loom capacity (including hand looms) with 63% of the world's market share.

In terms of fibre, cotton production in India increased from 5022 mn kg in 1998-99 to 9959 mn kg in 2013-14, man-made fibre increased from 782 mn kg to 1307 mn kg during the same period at a CAGR of 5%. (Table 3 gives details) Production of yarn increased from 2808 mn kg in 1998-99 to 6707 mn kg in 2013-14 at a CAGR of 4%. Fabric production increased from 35542 mn square meter in 1998-99 to 63500 mn square meter in 2013-14 at a CAGR of 4%. Garment production increased from 6228 mn pieces in 1998-99 to 16485 mn square meter in 2013-14 at a CAGR of 7%. Made Ups production increased from 1070 mn kgs in 1998-99 to 2061 mn kgs in 2013-14 at a CAGR of 4%.

India Textile and Apparel Export Market

In the last 10 years, India has leveraged some of the global opportunities and grown its exports. Since FY2006, although there have been fluctuations in some years, overall textile and apparel exports grew at a CAGR of 10.6% to reach US$42 billion in 2014 (Table 4).

While exports to US and EU had picked up there was strong competition not only from China but from other low cost countries like Vietnam and Bangladesh.

Though textiles exports provided a sizable 13% of all exports from India, the country's share in global textile trade still remains low at around 5%, but the potential is immense particularly as the leader China, the global leader is facing higher cost of production with increase in wages and focusing on a shift to services, and some of the other competing countries witnessing political instability, high inflation, currency appreciation and concerns over workplace conditions. Table 5 gives competitive advantage of India vis-à-vis other competing countries.

India's exports are further expected to grow at 14.43% CAGR and reach around US$ 185 bn by 2025 (see chart-I). Apparel exports are expected to grow faster at 17% CAGR and reach US$ 95 bn from the existing US$ 17 bn, while textile exports are expected to reach US$ 90 bn from the existing US$ 25 bn growing at the rate of 12.35% CAGR by 2025.

Growing market will fuel production requirement in future

Production across all sectors will be required to more than double by 2025 in order to cater to the increasing market demand. Correspondingly additional investments in manufacturing across all sectors are expected to come in near future as shown in Table 6.

Domestic market scenario in Textile and Apparel

The domestic textile and apparel industry in India is estimated to reach US$ 285 billion by 2025 at a CAGR of 12.77% (see chart J). Presently, apparel market dominates with a market share of 74% of the market, 19% technical textiles and 7% home textiles. Fastest growth is expected in technical textiles, which is expected to grow at a 16.44% CAGR and reach US$ 87 bn in 2025. Apparel is expected to grow by 11.2% CAGR while home textile is expected to grow by 12.35% CAGR on a small base. Increased penetration of organised retail, favourable demographics, and rising income levels are likely to drive demand for textiles.

Chart J: Textiles and Apparel Domestic Market (US$ bn)

Large investments in the sector are required to cater to future production requirement & market demand

The Indian domestic market is expected to reach US$ 285 Bn by 2025 from US$ 76 Bn in 2014 and export market is expected to reach US$ 185 Bn by 2025 from US$ 42 Bn in 2014 (see Table 7). Increasing demand on apparels is due to increase in per capita consumption, rising disposable incomes, rising fashion consciousness, internet and smart phone growth in smaller cities, growth of organized retail and e-commerce etc.

Table 7: Market Size

Exports	US$ 42 Bn	US$ 185 Bn	14%
Total	US$ 118 Bn	US$ 470 Bn	13%

India in order to achieve the above growth has to invest an estimated amount of USD 320 bn across the Textile value chain (see Table 8).

Table 8: Investments required

It can be summarised that Indian Textile industry is poised for a growth as under:

- Global textile and apparel textile industry market & trade is growing and will continue to do so in future
- India's growing domestic market will also provide major boost to the textile & apparel industry
- Global trade trends will favour India as a promising textile and apparel base
- Fundamentals of Indian textile manufacturing are strong and makes India globally competitive
- High investments are required across the value chain to cater to the future demand potential
- Indian government is also providing good support to textile industry
- India has huge potential to increase its product basket especially in MMF textiles
- Indian textile companies are also growing in size and scale and becoming globally competitive
- Overall India's Textile and Apparel sector is well placed to tap the huge market opportunity and consolidate its global position.

Business Strategy

Being one of India's leading textiles manufacturers, Alok Industries has the global scale of operations and has presence in global markets. It is ready for the opportunities available in the growing global apparel and textiles market for Indian Textile Industry. The strategy followed was to create globally competitive capabilities across the value chain – from yarn to weaving to specialised products. Alok uniquely positioned itself in both apparel and home textiles segments and covered both the cotton and polyester product streams.

While each of these business divisions are like independent value generating entities, the focus was on offering product basket to cater to our ever demanding customers and for the stake holders. We built up global scale of operations, which are essential to compete in the global market place and focus on diversification in product and markets.

In a bid to further diversify the business risks and leverage market opportunities, the Company had also invested into certain new initiatives that were in addition to its core textiles manufacturing operations out of India. This included acquisition of Mileta, a Czech Republic based integrated textiles player; UK based retail venture called 'Store Twenty One' through its step down subsidiary Grabal Alok (UK) Limited and real estate investments through Alok Infrastructure Limited, its 100% subsidiary. Across all these businesses, the focus was on enhancing value. However, most of these initiatives on one hand have not yielded the desired results and increased the leverage of the Company on the other hand. Now, the Company is exploring the possibility to monetise these assets to deleverage the balance sheet.

This entire endeavour at expanding for global positioning warranted large scale investments, which was largely debt financed. In addition, the diversified operations also required large financing support not only to create but also for the gestation period till a self-sustaining level is realised.

Consequently, while the Company has created and developed the requisite infrastructure to take advantage of global market opportunities, it has also to deal with a highly financially leveraged balance sheet. Over the last few years, as the Company developed its higher capacities and diversified into other business, external environment became subdued. India as well as global markets went through a phase of economic slowdown and uncertainties. As a result, the Company could not exit some of its overseas and domestic real estate business and the burden of servicing debt has grown significantly on its Textile business operations.

The Company has already initiated steps to exit from its non-core businesses. In this context, the Company has already closed its domestic retail (H & A) business by shutting down the stores set up across India. It has also got traction in selling material portions of its commercial real estate units, which were located in Mumbai. The Company is continuing its efforts to sell majority of its non-core assets in the next financial year and use the proceeds to reduce debt. However, market conditions, today are not very conducive to make such asset sales in a reasonable span of time. Towards this end, the company has entered into an MOU to sell its Czech based unit "Mileta International". If all the requirements of the MOU are satisfactorily met, the trade is expected to get concluded by March 2017/ June 2017. The proceeds of the same would be used to repay the acquisition debt financed by the banks.

The reasons for the Company's present tight liquidity situation can be summarised as under:

- Temporary miss-match of funds caused due to bunching of repayments of core and non-core loans.
- Substantial amount from operations was used to service debt resulting in tight working capital situation impacting operations.
- This was further aggravated by the higher receivables & Inventory in the domestic market for woven fabric due to tight liquidity.
- Increase in average interest cost from about 7% per annum in FY 2010 to around 13% by FY2014.
- Delay in monetization of non-core assets due to depressed economic conditions which resulted in additional burden of interest of non core business loans on core textile business.
- Delay in sanction/ release of credit facilities and delay in receiving export advances against the Export Performance Bank Guarantee.

Consequently, the Company is going through a very tight phase in terms of liquidity in the system, which is preventing it from growing revenues and generating cash. In November 2015 (reference date 27.11.2015), banks invoked the SDR (Strategic Debt Restructuring) to work out a viable solution for the Company. Under SDR, Banks agreed in principle to convert debt of Rs. 2557.88 crore into equity i.e. 2,55,78,76,091 equity shares of Rs. 10 each to take a controlling stake of 65% in the company.

Alok has passed necessary enabling resolution in its Board meeting held on 30.01.2016 as well as obtained shareholders' approval in the Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) held on 14.03.2016 to increase authorized share capital and allow conversion of debt to equity under the SDR Scheme by way of fresh issue of equity shares. So far banks have not asked the company to issue shares under SDR. There was also a case filed by a Singapore based bank led consortium of banks for winding up of the Company for non-payment of their dues and they have also restricted the further issue of shares without their approval.

There are some other cases filed on the company by banks/ institutions & suppliers for recovering their dues. Most of these cases are being pursued due to uncertainty about the way forward for the Company. We believe, once the definite course of action about the revival of the Company is known, most of the legal cases filed on the Company would also get addressed.

The Company is working with all financial stake holders to evolve an effective debt recasting programme and exploring various avenues to induct capital into the system and continue operations as a 'going concern'.

Already, with the projects reaching different levels of completion, Alok is starting to work on monetising these assets and utilising the cash to retire debt. The position of sale and leasing out of the real estate assets is given in table 15:

Sustainable Business Practices and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

Alok has always strived to be a leader in sustainable integrated, textile solutions delivering value through environmentally and socially responsible textile products. In addition to its commitments towards quality and health, safety and environment there are certain specific initiatives that related to sustainability and social development.

Ethical Fibre

At the first stage of its value chain is procurement of cotton, which is the Company's predominant fibre utilisation. Increasingly, the world is witnessing the promotion of ethical fibres like

- Organic cotton, which is cotton grown without the use of external synthetic agricultural inputs like fertilizers and pesticides and helps conserve the environment from the harmful effects of the use of hazardous agro chemicals
- Fair Trade cotton fibre
- Better Cotton, which involves educating the cotton growers to adopt the Best Management Practices in cotton cultivation for more sustainable yields
- Recycled cotton and polyester for our state of the art spinning plant.

A shift from conventional fibre use to these ethical variants significantly reduces the environmental impact of growing conventional, resource intensive cotton and help marginal cotton growers economize on farm expenses.

Alok has led from the forefront amongst Indian companies adopting use of such fibres. The Company is GOTS certified and a member of Better Cotton Initiative (BCI) quality manufacturer supplying Organic and Better Cotton textile products to the world's leading brands in Europe and the US. As a Fair Trade (FLO) certified company, Alok values the fair price concept across the value chain. The Company has taken initiative and been instrumental in a few of the well-known Organic and Fair Trade cotton projects in India and abroad.

Similarly Cotton made in Africa (CMiA) is another important variant of sustainable cotton type Alok is into and supplies its quality products to sophisticated markets in parts of Europe.

Sustainable Manufacturing

In addition, Alok remains committed to sustainable manufacturing operations, which also implies use of newer and cleaner technology, use of eco-friendly dyes for all processing, treatment of post-dyeing effluents, installation of reverse osmosis (RO) units to recover fresh water from the treated one and installation of Selective Catalytic Reduction (SCR) systems in the exhaust of the DG sets to reduce oxides of Nitrogen.

The Company encourages the use of recycled products and has set up a recycled polyester unit with an initial 20 tons/ day of capacity to recycle polyester and polyester yarn waste, flakes and PET bottles to produce 100% recycled polyester fibre.

Social Development

Alok has been regularly working on improving the quality of life in communities where it operates by adopting measures that benefit the local population in terms of direct and indirect employment. In the process, the Company has also played an active role on providing training and employment to local tribal women.

Alok has also established a school - Alok Public School - in Silvassa, which already has a student, base of close to 500 and is a much coveted school in the township and surrounding areas. The School has been granted the much sought after CBSE affiliation and also recognized as a 'New Generation' CBSE school for its innovative methods and practices.

The School has stepped into its sixth academic year with Class X being the senior most. The first batch of Class X appeared in the AISSE in March 2015. Education in the elementary level is predominantly activity based.

Risks & Risk Mitigation

The Company's business is exposed to both external and internal risks. Your Company has incorporated processes and systems to proactively monitor, manage and mitigate these risks along with appropriate review mechanisms.

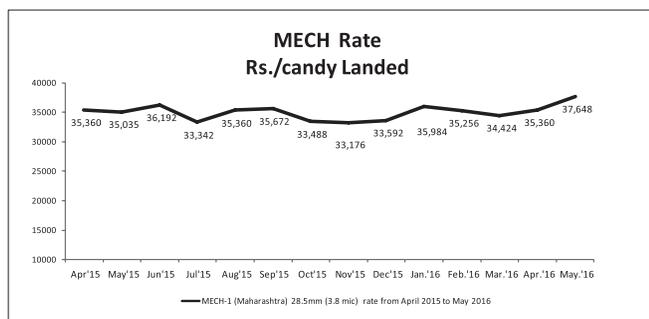

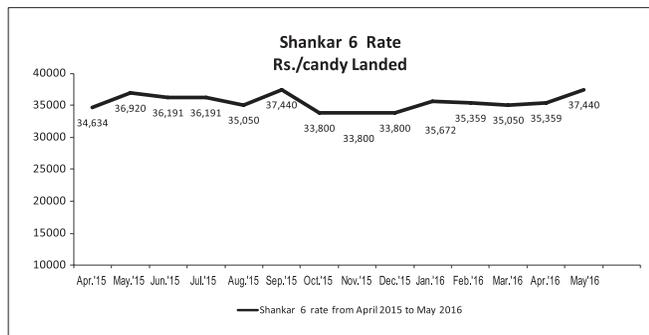

Some of the broad risks that affect the Company are discussed below:

Raw Materials

Our textile manufacturing business and operations are significantly dependent on the timely availability and price of raw materials used in our production process. The primary raw material for our textile operations is cotton and PTA & MEG. It also buys fabrics from unorganised power loom segment to meet the requirement.

Being an agricultural commodity, there can be fluctuations in price of cotton due to certain factors, including the changing weather conditions. Further, pricing of cotton is significantly affected by government policies and regulations. Governmental policies affecting the agricultural industry (such as taxes, tariffs, duties, subsidies, import and export restrictions on agricultural commodities and commodity products) can influence industry profitability, the planting of certain crops versus other uses of agricultural resources, the location and size of crop production, whether unprocessed or processed commodity products are traded and the volume and types of imports and exports. As the chart-M below shows cotton prices have stabilised in the last few months and the overall trend over the year under review has been stable with a slight negative trend in 2015-16. However, since March 2016, there has been an increase in prices.

In case of fabric outsourced from power loom for unorganised market, there is inherent risk of carrying large inventory like change in demand preferences, price fluctuations and high carrying cost.

Further, for our polyester yarn operations, PTA and MEG are the major raw materials that are required in manufacturing POY and polyester yarn. Being petrochemical products, prices of PTA and MEG are linked to naphtha prices and ethylene prices, respectively, and fluctuate in line with fluctuations in the crude oil prices.

There has been a negative trend in PTA and MEG prices from the middle of the 2014 in line with falling crude prices (see Chart-N). What is important to note that final polyester prices are directly impacted by reducing PTA and MEG prices.

Chart N: Price Movement of PTA & MEG

So there are risks of holding on to high price inventory in the present environment given the physical lag in the production process. In case of both cotton and polyester, Alok endeavours to keep inventory levels in line with the sales order book.

Power & Fuel

Adequate and cost effective supply of electrical power is critical to our operations, which entails significant consumption of electrical power and coal & gas as a fuel. Currently, major portion of our power requirements is sourced from the relevant State Electricity Board at Vapi, Silvassa and Navi Mumbai. We also have power plants at Vapi and Silvassa as a part of our energy requirements for our manufacturing facilities which also serves as our back-up electricity supply. Operation of these power plants, boilers etc. entails certain risks associated with typical such units, including, but not limited to, industrial accidents such as explosions or fire damage. There are risks associated to the cost of power generation and grid power.

We are also dependent on the availability of water from the States of Gujarat and Maharashtra for use in our manufacturing facilities. Lack of sufficient water resources or an increase in the cost of such water used in manufacturing facilities could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation.

Markets

The Company's products have ready markets both in domestic as well as exports, but it is very competitive. Further, the Company relies significantly on export of products, especially home textiles to the United States and Europe. Accordingly, there are risks associated to fluctuations in the demand of textile products manufactured by us in the United States and Europe. The textiles market in the United States and Europe may be affected by a number of factors outside our control, including local and economic conditions, changes in demand and supply for products we develop, or comparable to those that we develop, and changes in government regulations. Any adverse change in the demand for our products in these countries may have a negative impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We are widening our market exposure to other countries including ones in Asia to spread the export market risks apart from also aggressively penetrating the domestic Indian market.

In case of unorganised domestic market where company sales outsourced fabrics, carries a risk of delayed recovery and potentially turning into bad debts. The company has decided to gradually come out of this market segment and focussed more on its manufactured fabrics which has organised markets and sought by leading brands.

Information Technology Risk

Ever increasing dependency on information technology systems on business process, communications, MIS, controls and customers/vendors management make it most important to minimise disruptions of information technology systems. Unavailability of application or loss of data results in impairment of business and production processes.

We have been continuously adapting necessary actions for risk avoidance and limitation of damage to changing circumstances.

The company runs a centralised database application with data centre at the corporate office with best class IT infrastructure. Unavailability of application, arising out of hardware or network failure due to internal and external factors, has very high impact on the business. Redundancy across all critical points such as storages, database/application servers, network and other devices, power, air-conditioning etc. ensure necessary availability of business-critical application systems and access to business-relevant data.

Though adequate power backup is provided through multiple UPS systems and external power backup of the building, prolonged major power failures may force us to shut down the system landscape.

WAN links which are most critical for locations to connect to the main data centre is under managed services and very high availability SLA. Major locations have adequate backup link to minimise dependency on one service provider.

Well trained resources carry out preventive, detective and corrective measures of the landscape on 24x7 basis including fire and other physical security aspects using fire alarms/CCTV surveillance systems.

Infrastructure, WAN and LAN are secured through secured MPLS links, firewalls, well defined role based authorisations for system and applications access and enterprise wide end point security.

Financial Risk

The large debt burden has already made an impact on the business coupled with this; there has been pressure also from rising interest costs. The risks are as follows:

- a substantial portion of our cash flows will be used towards repayment of our existing debt, which will reduce the availability of cash flows to fund working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate requirements;
- our ability to obtain additional financing in the future or renegotiate or refinance our existing indebtedness on terms favourable to us may be limited;
- fluctuations in market interest rates will affect the cost of our borrowings, as all our indebtedness is subject to floating rates of interest;
- we may be restricted from making dividend payments to our shareholders under certain circumstances;

The Company is working with the banks on possibilities of working out a long term viable solution for the company.

Currency Risk

Changes in currency exchange rates influence our results of operations as we have foreign debt as well as exports and imports. Although our widespread operations and diverse markets provide a natural hedge to our foreign currency exposure, significant fluctuations in currency exchange rates between the Indian rupee and the foreign currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar, may adversely affect our results of operations.

The Company monitors the currency movements regularly and take appropriate measures where needed.

Outlook

Alok is well positioned in terms of capacities, capabilities and established relationships to capitalise on market opportunities. While market conditions will be competitive, we see incremental opportunities in both domestic and overseas markets. More than anything presently, the Company's operations are affected due to lack of adequate working capital. The Company is exploring all avenues to infuse working capital, including possibilities of inducting strategic investments and restructuring the business organisation. Success in this front is imperative to stabilise the Company's position. One expects some success on this front and consolidation of business operations in FY2017.

Internal Control and Adequacy

The Company has in place well established framework of internal control system, commensurate with the size and complexity of its business. The Company has set up processes to continuously monitor the effectiveness of the internal controls with an objective to provide to the Audit Committee and Board of Directors an independent, objective and reasonable assurance on the adequacy and effectiveness of the organization's risk management, control and governance processes. The Company has a strong and independent internal audit function consisting of professionally qualified accountants with external audit firms monitoring the internal control process at each of the manufacturing location. The Company periodically issues accounting guidelines to ensure uniformity of financial statements and has

'Standard Operating Procedures' to cover activities like purchasing, selling, authorization of expenses etc.

Significant observations made by the internal audit team and external audit firms and follow up actions are reported to the Audit Committee, which then reviews the effectiveness of the Company's internal control systems and tracks the implementation of audit recommendations.

There is also a methodology for formulation of internal control policy and guidelines for areas of weakness identified during internal audit or by management.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditors' Report

(Referred to in paragraph 2(g) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

REPORT ON THE INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING UNDER CLAUSE (i) OF SUB-SECTION 3 OF SECTION 143 OF THE COMPANIES ACT, 2013 (THE "ACT")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Alok Industries Limited ("the Company") as of 31st March, 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

FINANCIAL SECTION

Annexure to the Independent Auditors' Report

28 As a consequence of the prolonged working at depleted levels, the Company's losses have significantly mounted leading to a decrease in the net worth. The company will take due measures to inform concerned authorities of this development in due course.

Certain events / conditions could possibly impact the 'going concern' assumption of the Company. The lenders had invoked the 'Strategic Debt Restructuring' (SDR) on 27 Nov 2015 pursuant to Reserve Bank of India guidelines and the implementation thereof is under process. Considering this development, the Company has presented these financial statements on a 'going concern' basis.

29 Company has unabsorbed depreciation and business losses as at the Balance Sheet date on which net deferred tax assets of Rs 1051.85 crore has been recognized based on the concrete measures taken by the Company for ramping up operations and enhancing operating efficiency. Based on timely infusion of working capital, running order book position, reliability of raw material supply and the technical viability report prepared by recognized industry experts, the company is virtually certain that there would be sufficient taxable income in future to offset the deferred tax asset.

30 Pursuant to the applicability of Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, with effect from April 01, 2015, the Company has aligned the useful lives of its tangible assets with those specified In Schedule II or as assessed based on technical advice. Consequently, the depreciation charge for the year ended 31st March, 2016 is lower by Rs. 290.63 crores.

31 In the opinion of management, the current assets and other non-current assets after necessary provisions / write offs have a value on realisation in the ordinary course of the business, at least equal to the amount at which they are stated except otherwise stated.

42 Corporate Social Responsibility

As per Section 135 of the Companies Act, 2013, a company, meeting the applicability threshold, needs to spend at least 2% of its average net profit for the immediately preceding three financial years on corporate social responsibility (CSR) activities. The areas for CSR activities are eradication of hunger and malnutrition, promoting education, art and culture, healthcare, destitute care and rehabilitation, environment sustainability, disaster relief and rural development projects.

A CSR committee has been formed by the company as per the Act. The funds were primarily allocated to a corpus and utilized through the year on these activities which are specified in Schedule VII of the Companies Act, 2013.

Sr. No.	Particulars	Rs. in crores

b	Amount spent during the year on	-

43 Certain creditors/lenders have filed winding up petitions in the Bombay Court for non-payment of their dues / instalments / interest etc. The Company has taken appropriate measures to defend itself in this regard.

44 The Company is yet to pay the debenture interest payment due for a period beyond one year as at the Balance sheet date. This attracts the provisions of Section 164 (2) of the Companies Act, 2013 as per which all directors retiring by rotation at the ensuing Annual General Meeting and eligible for reappointment render themselves ineligible for such reappointment. Further, Section 167 of the said Act appears ambiguous regarding the vacation of the Board, if and when such a contravention continues. The Company is informed that the Company Law Committee appointed by the Government of India has already recommended appropriate amendments to Section 167 to remove the apparent ambiguity. The Company is further informed the recommendation has been incorporated in the Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2016 which has been introduced in the Lok Sabha for discussion and is pending for confirmation.

45 The previous financial year of the Company was for a period of 18 months from 1 October 2013 to 31 March 2015, whereas the current financial year of the Company is for a 12 months from 1 April 2015 to 31 March 2016. The figure of the two periods are therefore not strictly comparable.

Annexure "A" to the Independent Auditor's Report on the Consolidated Financial Statements

(Referred to in paragraph 1(g) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

REPORT ON THE INTERNAL FINANCIAL CONTROLS UNDER CLAUSE (j) OF SUB-SECTION 3 OF SECTION 143 OF THE COMPANIES ACT, 2013 (THE "ACT")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended 31 March, 2016, we have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Alok Industries Limited ("the Holding Company") its subsidiary company, its associate companies and jointly controlled entities which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding Company, its subsidiary companies, associate companies and jointly controlled entities, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by these entities considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the 'ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Holding Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

The audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us and other auditors in terms of their report referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Group's, its associates and its jointly controlled entities, incorporated in India, internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to explanation given to us and based on the consideration of reports of other auditors, as referred to in the Other Matters paragraph, the Holding Company, its subsidiary company, associate companies and jointly controlled entities, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by these entities, considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the ICAI.

Other Matters

Our aforesaid report under section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls over financial reporting in so far as it relates to :

- one subsidiary and one jointly controlled entity, companies which are incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding report of the auditor of such companies.
- Two associate companies and one jointly controlled entity, companies which are incorporated in India and which are subject to the statutory audit under the provisions of Companies Act, 2013, have not been considered for reporting, in the absence of audit report of respective companies till the date of issuing our report.

Our Report is not qualified in respect of these matters.

for the Year ended 31 March 2016

1(A) Alok Industries Limited ("The Company") is a public limited company, domiciled in India and incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956. The equity shares of the Company are listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and National Stock Exchange (NSE). 1(B) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

i Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

These consolidated financial statements of Alok Industries Limited ("the Parent Company") and its Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associate Companies, (together the "Group" or "the Company") have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis to comply with the Accounting Standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of the Act.

ii Principles of Consolidation

The subsidiaries are consolidated on a line-by-line basis in accordance with Accounting Standard 21 "Consolidated Financial Statements". Interest of the minority shareholders in the subsidiaries' profits or losses and net worth is displayed separately in the consolidated financial statements. Inter-company transactions and balances are eliminated on consolidation.

Investments in joint ventures are accounted for using the proportionate consolidation method in accordance with Accounting Standard 27 "Financial Reporting of Interests in Joint ventures". Unrealized profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Company and the joint venture companies are eliminated to the extent of the company's share in the joint ventures.

Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method in accordance with Accounting Standard 23 "Accounting for Investments in Associates in Consolidated Financial Statements". Unrealized profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Company and the associates are eliminated to the extent of the company's interest in the associate.

For the purpose of consolidation, the financial statements of the subsidiaries, joint venture companies and associates are drawn up to the same reporting period.

The excess of the cost of investment in subsidiary companies, joint venture and associate companies over the parent's share of equity is recognized in the financial statements as goodwill. When the cost to the parent of its investment in subsidiary companies, joint venture and associate companies is less than the parents' share of equity, the difference is recognized in the financial statements as capital reserve.

iii Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the generally accepted accounting principles require estimates and assumptions to be made that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure relating to contingent liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Differences between the actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialise.

- 46 The Company is yet to pay the debenture interest payment due for a period beyond one year as at the Balance sheet date. Further, Section 167 of the said Act appears ambiguous regarding the vacation of the Board, if and when such a contravention continues. The Company is informed that the Company Law Committee appointed by the Government of India has already recommended appropriate amendments to Section 167 to remove the apparent ambiguity. The Company is further informed the recommendation has been incorporated in the Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2016 which has been introduced in the Lok Sabha for discussion and is pending for approval. In the Company's view therefore, the other directors can continue to function in that capacity.
